Kevin Jagers Releases First Single

For Immediate Release:

Independent country-music newcomer, Kevin Jagers will be releasing his first ever single, "Hell of a Good Time," to country radio and digital distribution on Friday, September 28, 2018.

The lead-off single from his upcoming EP, expected to be released in the second quarter of 2019, captures the perfect image of fall in the heart of Kentucky. "This isn't a song that I set out to write, it just came to me all at once," Jagers explains. "I wanted a feel-good kind of song about my life being young and having fun. And, I think [Hell of a Good Time] has a nostalgic appeal to it that people will be able to relate to, no matter what point of life they are in. It is just one of those that comes directly from my life, and that is what I want to represent me as an artist."

Pre-orders (pre-save on Spotify) on digital distribution will begin on Wednesday, September 12, 2018. It will be available for adds on ANY radio station on Thursday, September 27, 2018; and impacting on Monday, October 10, 2018. To download the song, go to www.kevinjagers.com/radio or the QR code on the attached one sheet.

Short Bio: Raised in Sonora, KY (about 50 miles south of Louisville), Kevin credits the new trends being made in country music as his influences. Before his music career, Kevin was a country-radio personality in the Elizabethtown/Louisville Market for 4 years. He has played at several nationally acclaimed venues (ex: KY State Fair, Bluebird Cafe, Tootsie's Nashville, etc.), and has opened for several national acts such as Chris Young, Maddie and Tae and more.
